PARIS 2024 OLYMPIC GAMES: MODERN PENTATHLON LINE-UP REVEALED

- New world champions Seong (KOR) and Bohm (HUN) lead glittering array of talent
- Tokyo 2020 medallists French and Choong (GBR), Asadauskaite (LTU), Elgendy (EGY) and Jun (KOR) return
- President Schormann promises pentathletes a ‘special experience’

The 72 athletes who will compete in Modern Pentathlon at the Paris 2024 Olympic Games have been named by the Union Internationale de Pentathlon Moderne (UIPM).

The identity of the 36 female and 36 male* qualifiers was revealed in a short video published on UIPM’s social media channels, kickstarting a one-month countdown to the Olympic Modern Pentathlon that will provide a fitting climax for the Games at the Palace of Versailles from August 8-11.

A glittering array of talent awaits spectators at the specially arranged Pentathlon Stadium in Paris (FRA) next month.

The 40-year-old Laura Asadauskaite of Lithuania, gold medallist at London 2012 and silver medallist at Tokyo 2020, is poised to become the first woman and only the second pentathlete after Peter Macken of Australia to line up for five Olympic Games, having been selected alongside UIPM 2024 Pentathlon World Cup Final winner Gintare Venckauskaite (LTU).

At the other end of the age scale, 21-year-old Seungmin Seong of Korea will make her Olympic debut as the reigning world champion, while there are three teenage women in the field representing the next generation – Malak Ismail of Egypt, Lucie Hlavackova of Czechia and 16-year-old Sol Naranjo of Ecuador.

Carrying the hopes of the home nation will be Rio 2016 silver medallist Elodie Clouvel and 2018 European champion Marie Oteiza of France, while two-time world champion Elena Micheli lines up beside 2023 European Games winner Alice Sotero in a formidable Italy team. Tokyo 2020 champion Kate French of Great Britain returns for her third Games alongside debutante Kerenza Bryson.
