RULES CHANGES - THE FENCING BONUS ROUND

The Bonus Round will not replace the traditional Ranking Round (Round Robin) format. Rather, the Bonus Round is an additional stage to the competition that gives the pentathletes the chance to win bonus points to top up their scores by challenging higher-ranked competitors from the Ranking Round. The finalists then fence in a one-on-one format on a single piste, taking centre stage in the arena.

The Bonus Round in 5 steps:

- 1. The traditional Ranking Round takes place either on the day before or in the morning of the competition final. So the pentathletes fence their bouts and receive points according to the Fencing Rules and Fencing Table.
- 2. The Bonus Round start list is based on the results from the Ranking Round and it is a one-on-one event. Pentathletes challenge the higher ranked ones from the Ranking Round aiming to increase scores.
- 3. Focus on a single piste, with the fencers taking center stage in the same arena of the combined event.
- 4. Keeping the 'one-touch in 45 seconds' structure, the Bonus Round lasts no longer than one hour.
- 5. The fencers with the least amount of points from the Ranking Round play against each other. Then the winner of each bout stays in competition, contests the next best athlete in the next bout and so on until the top two pentathletes go head-to-head.

RULES CHANGES - THE FENCING BONUS ROUND

Immediate benefits for Modern Pentathlon:

1. The Fencing event becomes a more thrilling spectacle for the audience and more challenging for the athletes.
2. The Fencing Bonus Round takes place at the same location as the Riding and Combined Event, making it more attractive to broadcaster and spectators.

The Fencing Bonus Round Overview:

- › one show piste
- › one hour event
- › one to one épée fencing
- › one second to win
- › one great show

THE FIVE EVENTS

Fencing

The Modern Pentathlon competition starts with the Épée Fencing but this year, UIPM has introduced a new, dynamic element to the discipline. In the Ranking Round, each athlete fences against each of their rivals in bouts that last up to a minute. Just one hit is needed to win. If neither fencer has scored a hit after 60 seconds they both register a defeat. An athlete who wins 25 of their 35 bouts will get 250 pentathlon points, with each victory or defeat above or below this number worth a plus or minus score of 6 points. In the final round, called the Bonus Round, a single fencing piste is used and the competition is a one-on-one fight, each bout lasting maximum 45 seconds. This event takes place on the same Field of Play as the Ride and Combined Event.

The pentathletes' points from the Ranking Round are taken over to the final round. The competition is carried out in reverse order, with the last-place athlete going first against the next-placed athlete. The winner of each bout will be matched against the next best-ranked pentathlete. In this way, a pentathlete may continue to advance as long as they continue to win matches. The bout winner receives one bonus point for each bout they win.

Swimming

The swimming event is a 200m freestyle race. The heats are seeded with the fastest swimmers competing in the final heat. A time of 2:30 is worth 250 pentathlon points and every third of a second faster or slower than this time is being worth a plus or minus score of one point.

Riding

In the riding event, athletes have to complete a show jumping course that is between 350 – 450 meters including 12 obstacles and 15 jumps, in a set time. The horses are assigned randomly and each athlete only has 20 minutes and five practice jumps to get to know the horse in the warm-up ring, before coming out to compete.

A clear round within the time allowed is worth 300 pentathlon points. Competitors lose 7 points for each jump they knock down, and 10 points for a refusal to jump or a fall, which is equivalent to a 10-second handicap in the final combined event. They also lose one point for each second they are over the allowed time.

It is mandatory to cross the final line otherwise the rider will be eliminated with zero points for the riding.

THE FIVE EVENTS

Combined event: running and shooting

For the climax of the competition, athletes run a total distance of 3,200m, stopping to shoot and hit the target five times from 10 meters distance before each 800m leg – this is repeated four times. Athletes can start running the next 800m leg once they have hit the target five times. If they still have not hit the target five times after 50 seconds, so they are allowed to continue, but any hopes of a medal will have gone.

The competitor who has amassed the most points in the first three events starts the combined event first, with the rest of the field facing a one second handicap for each pentathlon point by which they trail the leader. This ensures that the first person to cross the finish line wins the Gold medal.

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

Sport for All

The UIPM Sport for All Commission met for the first time in Warsaw on September 8th, the day after the end of the Senior World Championship. The mission of Sport for All is to undertake action to promote development programmes through the basic disciplines as School Biathlon, Modern Biathle (run/swim) and Modern Triathle (shoot, swim, run).

Modern Pentathlon heads to universities

In May 2014, Modern Pentathlon was included as a new sport of the International University Sports Federation in the world university programme. More than 32 sports had expressed an interest in joining the programme, but with over 60 sports already present in the FISU family, just two were chosen. The recognition and inclusion of modern pentathlon within FISU prompted a long-term project worldwide. A variety of educational and competition activities will strengthen and promote both federations' global goals.

UIPM became a member of the International Paralympic Committee and constituted the Para-pentathlon working group

On July 1st 2014, a membership to the IPC was set ensuring UIPM the right of Observer at the IPC General Assembly, IPC Sport Council Session and participation at IPC Congresses and Conferences. UIPM also constituted the Para-pentathlon working group aiming to enhance its multidisciplinary approach to a Paralympic level, establishing format, rules and regulations. In Hungary and forty samples were taken.

MODERN PENTATHLON

WE ARE THE HISTORY OF THE OLYMPICS

Olympic Pentathlon was introduced for the first time at the 18th Ancient Olympiad around 708 BC with the disciplines long jump, javelin, discus throw, stadion (short foot race) and wrestling. Due to the strong physical skills required to be a pentathlete, the sport was from the outset closely associated with military service.

Pentathlon held such paramount importance in the Ancient Games that champions were honored as victor ludorum, which is Latin for “winner of the games”.

In the modern era, at the 12th IOC Session in Berlin in 1909, different types of Modern Pentathlon started to be discussed with the aim of reprising the discipline in the Olympic Games. The discussion was initiated by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, founder of the Modern Olympic Games.

Nevertheless, in Coubertin’s own words, the proposal “had always been greeted with a lack of understanding and almost hostility”.

Only two years later, in 1911, at the 14th IOC Session, Modern Pentathlon was fully endorsed as an indispensable sport and then included in the programme of the 1912 Olympics in Stockholm, Sweden. It was decided that Modern Pentathlon would comprise riding, fencing, shooting, swimming and running. Surprisingly, Pierre de Coubertin would have preferred rowing to be included instead of shooting, but he recognized it would increase the complexity of Modern Pentathlon as the ultimate sporting challenge.

Modern Pentathlon was administered directly by the IOC until 1948, when the Union Internationale de Pentathlon Moderne was founded by the nations who participated at the London Olympic Games and where Gustaf Dyrssen became the first President. In 1954, UIPM started to develop the sport of Biathlon through its athletes from the military and Biathlon was introduced for the first time at the 1960 Winter Olympic Games, Squaw Valley. Subsequently, in 1968, the UIPM Congress extended its name to the Union Internationale de Pentathlon Moderne et Biathlon (UIPMB).

On July 3rd 1993, in London, the two pillars of UIPMB decided to act as separate self-governing International Federations (UIPM and International Biathlon Union-IBU).

UIPM had already been a full member of the IOC since 1948 and on August 20th 1998, the IOC decided to accept IBU as a full independent winter-sport federation.

The Modern Pentathlon has been on the Olympic programme continuously since 1912 and marked its 100-year anniversary at the London 2012 Olympic Games. From Stockholm 1912 to Moscow 1980, the competition was held over five days with one event per day. This decreased to four days between Los Angeles 1984 and Barcelona 1992. Finally, at the 1996 Atlanta Olympic Games, Modern Pentathlon settled on a one-day event format. On January 30 1998, at the IOC Session in Nagano, the UIPM received approval for women to compete from Sydney 2000 onwards.

In February 2013 in Lausanne, the IOC decided to enshrine Modern Pentathlon as one of the 25 core sports of the Summer Olympics.

For the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, Modern Pentathlon aims to surpass its successes of previous editions and as at Athens, Beijing and London a 100% ticket sell-out is guaranteed.
